

MECHANICAL DESIGNER

AMI Attachments Inc. is a North American manufacturer of heavy equipment attachments based in the Kitchener- Waterloo area.

Due to rapid growth, we are looking to expand our design team and are currently seeking a talented and experienced Mechanical Designer.

Key responsibilities for this role include, but are not limited to, focusing on the design & development of the product, centered around creating required technical packages for the product. This is inclusive of design & production details.

As an integral member of our team, you will display the motivation to be a team player with attention to detail, as well as exhibit flexibility, adaptability and strive for continuous improvement. To be considered for this role, you will have the following qualifications and experience:

QUALIFICATIONS AND EXPERIENCE

- Mechanical Design Diploma or Mechanical Engineering Degree, Bachelor of applied science or similar
- 1-3 years of mechanical design or design experience
- CAD experience, AutoDesk Suite (Vault and Inventor)
- Experience with FEA
- Experience in the field of heavy construction attachment design is an asset
- Familiar with manufacturing processes, (sheet metal and welding)
- Knowledgeable about hydraulics
- Strong organizational skills
- Strong analytical skills
- Excellent attention to detail

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Creating and analysing FEA reports
- Providing: technical support to the production group
- Continually improvement of existing designs
- Designing and releasing CAD model bas on customer specifications

We look forward to hearing from you! We thank everyone in advance for their interest in working with AMI Attachments; however due to the overwhelming number of responses we typically receive, only qualified applicants will be contacted. In accordance with the AODA, AMI Attachments is an equal opportunity employer. Any person with disabilities that requires assistance during the application process can contact our HR department.

Use our online application form, or email your cover letter and resume to:

careers@amiattachments.com